

NATURAL OILS

NATURAL OILS

Natural oils combine benefits for formulators and consumers, by improving the overall performance of a formulations, changing its aesthetic and eventually promoting skin improvement over time. These botanical oils can convey powerful emotions and successfully contribute to the creation of brands' compelling stories, blending together naturality, efficacy and sensorial engagement.

Vantage™ offers a wide portfolio of natural oils, either in a pure format, or with adjusted fatty acid compositions to precisely address formulators' challenges. Vantage™ leverages the expertise of Textron, a global leader in oil sourcing and oil development, that became a Vantage™ company in 2019.

From Farms to Formulations™

Over the years, Vantage™ has established a worldwide network to efficiently source and supply botanical oils. With jojoba farms in the USA and Argentina, extraction, purification and blending capabilities in North America and Europe, Vantage™ is a leading supplier of high-quality natural oils that support our customers' needs for reliably and sustainably sourced botanical ingredients.

JOJOBA OIL – DESERT’S LIQUID GOLD

From Farms to Formulations™

Vantage™ is a global natural chemistry company that creates, produces and sources high-end and tailored specialty chemicals and ingredients incorporated into everyday products that nourish, care, sustain and enhance performance. Back-integrated into natural oils and oleo chemistry, we use science to transform naturally-derived products by bringing technology from the lab into the global marketplace.

Nothing illustrates this commitment to natural and sustainable ingredients better than our investments in our jojoba activities in the USA and Argentina. A native crop from the Sonoran Desert, jojoba’s history is tightly intertwined with Arizona’s rich ethnobotany heritage. Vantage™ carries on this legacy with its renowned DW Jojoba oil range, and by leading the science behind jojoba and creating new opportunities to bring jojoba derivatives to beauty and personal care applications, From Farms to Formulations™.
